eggs have been coming in in carloads, but do not bring as good prices as the nearby stock. Southern hen fruit at this season corresponds to the Northern, which is produced in summer, and is not as fresh and rich as our home product in springtime. The demand for choice apples improves as the season advances. Potatoes, cabbage and onions are as slow and low as ever.

AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY.

Some of the Implements Most Needed Ir Uruguay.

The employment of agricultural machinery is extending rapidly in Uruguay, says the North British Mail, the sources from which supplies are drawn being for the most part Great Britain and the United States. Hecently also, as was to be expected, Germany has been doing her best to create a demand there for articles of German origin. The machinery in most request at present consists of threshing machines with engines of from eight to ten horse-power, and of which there are, it is believed, at presand of which there are, it is believed, at pres-ent about 400 in use, not to mention less power-ful machines. Reaping and mowing machines, sheaf-binding machines, and American plows are in favor in Uruguay, and there is a great demand for portable engines of from six to ten horse-power to work them. France some time ago forwarded some threshing machines to the country, but her efforts met with but little success.

A uniform duty of 5 per cent is charged on all machines imported into the place. The demand might be greatly developed by sending out competent mechanics, not merely to set up and repair machinery, but also to explain its and repair machinery, but also to explain its uses and manner of working to the inhabitants. In Colombia a ready market might be found for plows and other implements for rice-growing purposes offered at reasonable prices. The methods of preparation of the soil at present in vogue there are of the most primitive kind. There is also a need of better machinery to clean and prepare coffee.

Western Authority Estimates a Shortag

Cincinnati Price Current states that present indications point to a shortage in the winter packing amounting to less than 600,000 hogs in number, compared with last year, but probably not less than 550,000 decrease. The gain in average weight has been large, and the percentage yield has been 2 or 8 per cent more percentage yield has been 2 or 3 per cent more than usual, so that the indications are that the actual manufacture of product will not fall greatly below last year, although it is plain that the winter season will close with smaller stocks than a year ago.

The average price of hog product is now 20 per cent lower than a year ago. The indications as to wants of foreign markets for our surplus are better than last year, and this is being reflected in the comparatively active operations at this time of packers who cure largely for British markets.

Real Estate Valuations Sky High in New York and Chicago. PITTSBURG LEFT AWAY BEHIND. A Local Financier Invents the Greatest

SOME STEEP PRICES.

A Liberty street merchant who returned yesterday morning from Chicago, where he had been on business, stated that there was a genuine boom in real estate in that city, as evidence of which he mentioned the sale of a lot on the corner of Dearborn and Madison streets, near the Court House, at $7,500 a front foot. Figured down, this is about $180 per square foot. The purchaser was immediately offered a big premium for his bargain, which was refused. This lays and yet some inconsiderate Eastern people affect to believe that values here are inflated. The largest and most remarkable safe deposit vault in the world was completed at De-troit on Wednesday and shipped to Pittsburg on Thursday. It will arrive here during the present week, and will be set up in the building of the Fidelity Title and Trust Company, for which it was manufactured. It is composed for which it was manufactured. It is composed of large blocks of metal closely joined together, is 31 feet long by 17 feet wide, and weighs 500 tons. It is the invention of Mr. John T. Hough, formerly of Pittsburg, and John A. Harper, President of the Bank of Pittsburg. The principle upon which it is constructed is not only new but novel, and is believed to embody all

Pittsburg prices completely in the shade;

Mr. Housh will arrive in the city to-day to superintend the work of unloading and setting superintend the work of unloading and setting up this monster vault, which requires 35 cars to transport it from Detroit. It is the fourth one of the kind that has been turned out, but the others are smaller. One is in Chicago, one in Kansas City and one in Allegheny. A company has been organized for the manufacture of these vaults, with a capital of $125,000. The stockholders are John W. Chalfant, William Metcalf, Reuben Miller, H. S. A. Stewart, Wil son McCandiess, P. C. Knox, George I. Whitney, William Roseburg, J. T. Hough, John A. ney, William Roseburg, J. T. Hough, John A. Harper and C. L. Magee. William Metcalf is the President. The works are located here and

The downtown properties of the late Joshua Jones, of New York, were sold on Wednesday. Viewed from the galiery of the Real Estate Exchange the gathering was but a sea of hats and of struggling arms and hands striving to attract the attention of the auctioneer. Every institution lending money upon real estate was represented. Every real estate operator of prominence was there, with many more whose names, while not so familiar, represented millions of capital. It was impossible to estimate accurately the amount that this restless mass represented, but it is safe to say that the owners of over $700,000,000 witnessed the most important sale of real estate that has taken place on the Island of Manhattan since the whole of it was purchashed by Peter Minust for $22. The prices in every case were in excess of the executors' valuations, the most notable instance being No. 203 Broad-way. Many brokers had commission to buy this very choice piece, and the competition was lively, but when the sum of $211,000 was reached. and the property was finally knocked down at this figure, a hum went through the vast crowd. This price was at the rate of $84 50 per square foot. The following shows the figures at which some of the property bought of late years was purchased, and the present selling price: Bought May, 1882 for $49,900; sold for $63,650, Bought April, 1883, for $36,000; sold for $130,000. Bought April, 1885, for $80,200; sold for $108,000. Bought February, 1882, for $170,-000; sold for $227,000. Bought May, 1881, for $160,000; sold for $225,000. "So far as big properties are concerned, the real estate market is rather quiet at present," remarked a Fourth street dealer yesterday. They involve large sums of money and have deals of this kind on hand, but it may take months to close them up. So far as prices are concerned, I think they have about touched the high-water mark until the city outgrows its present limits. Of course I don't refer to small unimproved building lots, the values of which are constantly fluctuating. On the other hand, I see no reason for thinking that values will decrease, for the reason, principally, that de-sirable sites, large and small, are getting scarce. This scarcity, of course, will send intending purchasers farther and farther from the city, purchasers larther and farther from the city, until in a few years all the land between Sewickley and Braddock will be taken up. These places will eventually become the Dan and the Beersheba of Pittsburg. There is plenty of good ground to build on at each of the localities mentioned, and prices are reasonable.

They will be much higher in a year or two."

When the thermometer hovered around zero for a day or two last week, citizens deserted the streets except in cases of emergency, and toasted their toes by the fire. "It's, awful cold," was the general comment. But the cold snap in question was nothing to what Mr. Lashell, of Lashell & Rankin, experienced in the Northwest on Saturday. He was in Sheboygan on that day, when the mercury registered 230 helow, with two feet of snow on the ground. Among other places visited by Mr. Lashell during his trip was Burt Lake, Mich., where he purchased a fine summer resort.

Local Financiers Think There Will Soon be a Demand for Money. The money market ruled easy yesterday, the only feature being a considerable increase in the supply of loanable funds. There was no change in rates, which were about steady at the usual quotations. "If only one-half of the new business promised the coming spring materializes, we will find abundant employment for our idle capital," was the encouraging remark of a veteran financier. terest in the dealings was centered almost entirely in the Granger and Southwesters stocks. London was a liberal seller of St. Paul in the early trading, and the advices pointed to the publication at that center of the passing of the dividend of preferred stock, which induced freer realizations by the foreigners, and a marked impression was made on both common and preferred stock, but as the dividend is not due until April and the action by the directors cannot be taken until next month, there was a disposition to buy stock on the decline, especially by the Western contingent, and after the first drop the price of the stock was very well held.

Dispatches from Chicago stating that the Missouri Pacific and the Union Pacific had not signed the agreement on Saturday were circulated, and had considerable effect upon the first-named stock, which was afterward extended to the other Southwesterns, but these std-less were afterward disproved, and a better feeling prevailed toward the latter past of the afternoon, which neutralized to some degree the sharp losses of the early dealings. The bears, however, did not, abandon the search for weak apota, and a heavy drive was made against the Coalers in the afternoon, of which Reading bore the brunt and was forced off a fraction, while the losses in the rest were insignificant.

In the early dealings St. Paul and Cotton Oil were prominent for weakness, and the latter dropped a point, but the movements in the rest of the list were confined to the smallest fractions without perceptible tendency in cither direction, and after the first half hour's business the market sank into pronounced dullness with an improving tendency toward noon. The drive at the Coal stocks was made after 12 m. o'clock, and the influence of the movement extended to the general list, which sagged off slowly, while Manhattan and Oregon Improvement made decided declines. Toward delivery hour there was some improvement, however, and after that time a steady tone market finally closing dull and steady at about RALTIMORE—Clearings, $2,347,083; balances, PHILADELPHIA-Clearings, $17,595,864; bal-ances, $1,738,583. The market opened at 91%, the same as Saturday's closing, where it held for about an hour. It then declined to 90%, with one sale. This was succeeded by a rally to 91%—the opening quotation—where it hung until the last hour, when it made a spurt and reached 92%, with the best trading of the day. There was a stump just before the finish, which pulled the price down to 92%, which were the final figures, with indications of a new deal to-day, which will test the mettle of the opposing elements.

LUCRE RUNNING TO WASTE. Money for Capitalists in Small Tenement

Houses-A Case of Blindness. There was a good inquiry at the real estate offices yesterday for the usual descriptions of property, unimproved lots and small houses, and several deals were brought to a conclusion. One agent remarked: "There has been no general advance in rents, but if the demand keeps up until moving time there probably will be, especially for four or five-roomed tene-ments. If I had 200 such houses I could secure tenants for all of them in a week. There is more money in such houses for capitalists than in a gold mine. I am surprised they can't Contracts for Pig Iron in France. We hear, says the Glasgow Mail, that the Longwy Company has entered into a contract to deliver 150,000 tons of pig iron within three years from the present time to two rolling mills near Manbenge, in the North of France. The base price is fixed at 40½ f per ton of 1,000 kilos, with a sliding scale depending on the quotations for coke at any given time. Although the sliding scale acts as a safety valve, this transaction shows that the buyers have considerable confidence in the future of the French iron trade when they purchase so far ahead with every probability of coke becoming dearer in the meantime.

Outlets for Muchinery Abroad. There is a good opening for flour milling ma-chinery in South Brazil, where, owing to the scarcity of such a thing, the development of scarcity of such a thing, the development of wheat production is retarded. In some parts of China, and notably at Pekin, there is a de-mand for windmills to raise water to irrigate the soil. A want exists in Colombia of ade-quate but cheap machinery to extract the juice from the sagar cane. At present there is no such thing there.

British Breadstuffs.

LONDON, February 25.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: Last week in London the average price of English wheat fell to 31s, owing to the fact that the greater portion of the wheat tendered by farmers was of poor quality. The deliveries do not improve. The sales of English wheat for the week were 49,762 quarters at 29s 54, against 55,303 quarters at 30s 2a for the corresponding week last year. Foreign wheat was firmer, with a slight increase of business. Corn shows a tendency toward weakness. The inquiry for oats improved, and there was an occasional advance of 3d. SOLE A GENTS.

The Iron Workers at Rending Accept the Reduction in Wages. The heaviest were not much over 250 pounds in weight. There is no market at Herr's Island for heavy hogs. Butchers seem to want lean pork, as lard is a drug in the market. Said a Diamond Market butcher to-day: "I never knew the time when lard was so low as compared with prices of hogs as it has been this season." The range of prices was $4 75 to $5 10. The latter was paid for a nice bunch of Ohio hogs, weighing from 200 to 240 pounds.
